About Brittany

Brittany Rohm is a Pittsburgh-based content creator, storyteller, and professional dancer & choreographer who has spent her career connecting with audiences through movement, creativity, and authentic storytelling. She has traveled internationally teaching dance to thousands of aspiring dancers, building a foundation rooted in communication, expression, and human connection.

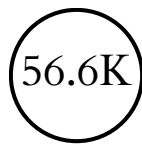

Today, Brittany brings that same storytelling mindset into the digital space, creating content that feels relatable, engaging, and grounded in real-life experiences. She has built an engaged audience through lifestyle-focused content that blends everyday moments, personal storytelling, and approachable, trend-aware creative direction.

Her work has led to collaborations with a variety of beauty, lifestyle, and wellness-focused brands, including UPMC, Degree Wellness, Express, Curateur, Henne Jewelers, Twenty Two Collective, The Skin Center, Pashion Footwear, Posh Peanut, Sleepy Belly, Mabē, My Breast Friend, Dreamland Baby, Swaddle Up, Ryze Coffee, Greater Pittsburgh Community Food Bank, and more!

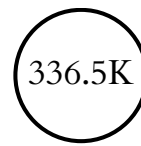

Beyond her work as a creator, Brittany is a wife and mother who values family, connection, and meaningful everyday experiences. She lives in Pittsburgh with her husband Michael, their daughter Freddi Jean, and their dog Mia. Whether through travel, date nights, or daily life, she draws inspiration from the moments that feel most real and human, something that continues to shape the way she creates content today.
